

Gentlemen of Steampunk

Welcome to the world of steampunk beefcake photography. This is a collection of original steampunk photographs featuring male models in neo-Victorian costume reflecting an alternative history that runs on steamtech and alchemy. Each character has a short yet convoluted, vague yet suggestive back-story that hints at the rich depths of the steampunk universe. Imagine a Vernian/Dickensian mash-up universe powered by steam and gearworks and practical magic, where pistons and brass and iron take the place of plastics and microprocessors, and where Queen Victoria serenely rules a progressive empire of advanced thermal and aetherial technology as fleets of vapor-trailing dirigible locomotives ply the skies. Now imagine that world populated by brilliant inventors and rascally rapsallions...who are also male models who forgot to put on their shirts that morning. Welcome to the Gentlemen of Steampunk!
